PREFATORY.

I have the pleasure of presenting to my patrons and the public the first issue of Thompson's Hotel Directory and Travelers' Guide.

It was commenced about six months ago, and has been pushed forward as rapidly as the magnitude of the undertaking would permit. No one who is not familiar with similar works can conceive of the amount of labor and the great expense attached to such a publication.

The plan and arrangement is entirely original, and it is to-day the only work of its kind. In compiling it, great care has been taken to make it as plain as possible, so that the information it contains can be seen at a glance, and be easily referred to.

My long experience as a publisher and past success has enabled me to present such a valuable book, and I trust that it will meet with the approval and success it justly merits. I thank my many patrons for the great encouragement given me, and trust the work will meet with your approval.

Finally, I call special notice to the Advertising Directory and Buyer's Guide "department," where are represented many of the largest manufacturers and business firms in the United States.

MAC URQUARHT'S

Worcestershire Sauce.

Manuf'red and Bottled in England.

In England there are many brands of Worcestershire Sauce, and none stand higher than Mac Urquarht's, as it it one of the oldest and best known Sauces throughout England and her Colonies. It is pronounced by connoisseurs superior in every respect to any Sauce offered, and is rapidly usurping the market in the United States.

The following certificate from one of the best known English Chemists sufficiently proves that it is perfectly pure and wholesome:

"The condiment's and materials used in Messrs. Mac Urquarht & Co.'s Worcestershire Sause are perfectly pure and of exceptional quality, and the sauce is entirely free from mineral or other noxious ingredients."

"BENJ. NICKELS, F.C.S., F.I.C., "Analytical and Technical Chemist, London, England."

From a comparison of the prices MAC URQUARHT'S is some 20 per cent. cheaper than Lee & Perrin's.

Leading Hotels and Restaurants in New York City—a class of trade that always demand the BEST of everything—now use Mac Urquarht's Sauce. Why can't you?

We invite a trial order from the trade generally.

Rooms, $1.50 and Upward per Day.

Park Avenue Hotel.

Occupying the entire front, between 32d and 33d Streets, on Fourth Avenue, and covering half the block in depth to Madison Avenue, its location is most central for transient visitors, and families desiring the quietude of an elegant home—contiguous to the most fashionable thoroughfares, and with means of quick conveyance to all business centres. Within eight minutes walk of the Grand Central Depot, from which trains depart and arrive from all points, and within five minutes' walk of either the West-side or East-side Elevated Railroads.

As a structure it is absolutely the only fire proof hotel building in the United States, and its Grand Parlor, eight Reception Rooms, Library, Dining Rooms, and five hundred Sleeping Rooms, with connecting Bathing and Dressing Rooms, are by a most systematic method thoroughly ventilated.

Surrounding a spacious Court, with Fountain, Summer Garden, Balconies and Electric Light. All its interior Rooms are most pleasant, while outside ones on its upper floors give extensive views of the East River, Long Island and the suburbs.

Ventilating Shafts intersect at each corner of its seven wide corridors, giving a continuous circulation of pure air throughout the building.

A number of Family Suites, with connecting Bathing

Rooms, have been added this season.

The Hotel is conducted on the American system, and dispatches for accommodations will receive every attention.

AUGUSTA HOUSE

State Street, Augusta, Maine.

Free Hacks to and from Depot & Steamboat

This popular house, recently refitted, renovated and refurnished is most pleasantly situated, overlooking the beautiful valley of the Kennebec; and, while it is adapted to the wants of the traveling public all the year round, it offers SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS TO SUMMER TOURISTS, who desire to spend the Summer pleasantly and amidst the most beautiful scenery in the State. The house has a perfect system of drainage, is supplied with pure spring water. The sleeping apartments are large and well ventilated, furnished in good style, hair matresses, etc. Electric Bells connect the rooms with the office. Gas in every room. The table will be supplied with the BEST THE MARKET AFFORDS, and prepared by experienced cooks, together with good attendance in the Dining Hall. The City of Augusta is the capital of the State, situated 60 miles from Portland and accessible by the Maine Central Railroad from Portland, running in connection with the Eastern Rallroad from Boston. No change of cars. Or by steamer direct from Boston, which is a very pleasant route.

Excellent FISHING, BOATING and GUNNING are found here, and the drives are unexcelled. A FIRST-CLASS LIVERY will be kept to accommodate the public. The Maine Insane Hospital is located here, also the Soldiers' Home at Togus, the United States Arsenal, and other places of interest.

The proprietors, having had large experience in the hotel business, feel competent to cater to the public taste, and by efficient and accommodating management trust to have a fair share of the public patronage.

Long Beach Rotel,

LONG BEACH, LONG ISLAND,

Take Ferry foot of East 34th St.

HE charming climate of Long Beach, its cool breezes, the absence of mosquitoes and the ordinary plagues of summer watering places, its easy accessibility to New York, and the class of people that has already contributed to its character—all these have established it as the First of all Resorts on the Atlantic Coast.

The natural conditions, the toppgraphy of the Beach and the tidal flow, has made the location without a rival in a sanitary point of view. The climate is a specific for hay fever, and for all such stubborn ailments.

It is now conceded that there is no such bathing beach anywhere on the sea coast as at Long Beach. We are pleased to announce to the children that the inlet for still-water bathing is forming for the season of 1885. The fishing for the last two seasons has been better here than at any other point on the Long Island coast. Boats for rowing, sailing and blue fishing will be provided; and all the diversions for which the south side of Long Island is celebrated will be enjoyed this summer in the fullest degree by the guests at the LONG BEACH HOTEL.

The best Musical Talent has been engaged.

Frequent and Fast Trains, through from Hunter's Point and Brooklyn, will be run by the Long Island Railroad, making the time to the Beach in forty-five minutes, with no change of cars.

Thousand Island Pouse,

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N. Y. De

The Thousand Island House is situated at Alexandria Bay, directly on the famous and historic river St. Lawrence—its scenery is absolutely unequaled. It has become a well-noted fact that there is actually no other region of resort in America combining so many attractive elements in Summer-time as the grand archipelago called the Thousand Islands, and drawing the line still closer, there is no other place having so many attractions, all points considered, as the Thousand Island House.

The grand and changeless St. Lawrence presents some features which are unique. Being the outflow of the great inland seas, its water is always perfectly pure. It is never subject to floods, and it has been noted by observant visitors that in midsummer among the Islands, and within a mile or so of the river, there is no dew at night (the fact is explained in the same manner as the existence of the well-known thermal belt along Niagara River). Malaria and hay fever unknown here.

The prevailing winds during the summer season sweep down, purified by their passage over the resinous Canadian forests, and over the wide expanse of the lake, reaching the nostrils of the fortunate guests—dry, bracing and cool; thus with its fresh and exhilarating atmosphere, the salubrity of the climate, the superb quality of its scenery, its attractions for angling and fishing, with boats of all kinds for those who desire, combined with the sumptuous accommodations of the Thousand Island House, make it the most delightful inland resort in the northern regions of New York.

In fitting this house to suit the best custom of the country, especial regard for the comfort of families has been considered, and in its refitting, furnishing and all its details, it will be first-class:

A general reduction in prices for the coming season, especially during the months of June and September.

General Sibley brought 2,500 prisoners to Mankato for military trial. Of these, 303 were sentenced to death. But President Lnicoln interceded, and after a personal examination of all the testimony, ordered the sentence to be carried out only in such instances as murder, aggravated by outrages on white women and children. In pursuance of this order, 37 of the condemed were hanged. The execution took place December 19th, 1862, on a long prairie ridge south-west of the town. All the gallows were operated simultaneously by the pulling of a single rope; a soldier, whose entire family had been murdered by the savages, was executioner. Mankato has at present two hotels, three weekly newspapers, a state normal school and a large Catholic college. There are several oil mills, foundries and machine shops and a large argricultural trade is carried on.

NEW YORK CITY, N. Y. The chief city of the United States and the Western Continent, is located at the mouth of the Hudson River, in the southern part of the State of New York. The City Hall is in latitude 40° 42' 43'' N., longitude 74° 0' 3'' W., and the city occupies the county of the same name. It covers the whole of . Manhattan Island and a portion of the mainland, and is bounded on the south by New York Bay; on the west by the Hudson or North River; on the north by the city of Yonkers and Westchester County, N. Y.; on the east by the river Bronx, that separates it from Westchester County, and the East River, a narrow, salt-water strait, dividing it from Long Island. It also includes Randall's, Ward's and Blackwell's Islands, in the East River; and Governor's Island, occupied by the U.S. Government; Bedloe's and Ellis' Islands, in the Bay. Spuyten Duyvil Creek and Harlem River divide the city into two unequal portions, and make the northern boundary of Manhattan Island. The city is 16 miles long, and varies in width from a few hundred yards to $4\frac{1}{4}$ miles at the north part. Its area is about 41½ square miles, or 26,500 acres, of which 12,100 are on the mainland. Its location is both beautiful, healthful, and advantageous in a commercial sense. bute to its attractiveness, while its varied surface and extensive water front conduce to its general healthfulness. Its harbor gives ample and safe anchorage for large fleets, and opens directly upon the Atlantic. Its position in the center of the northern part of the coast makes it a natural entrépot for the Middle States; and the Hudson River, navigable for nearly 150 miles, places it in easy communication with the interior. The Eric Canal and several lines of railroads place the city in reach of the Great West, and on the east, New England almost joins the city. The State and City of New Jersey fringe the opposite bank of the Hudson, and along the East River the City of Brooklyn and its neighboring towns form a continuous city upon its eastern side. From the Battery, at the southern end of Manhattan Island, the view of the Bay, the Islands, Brooklyn Heights, Staten Island, the Jersey shore, Jersey City, and the entrance to the Hudson, presents one of the most animated and beautiful pictures to be found. The upper part of the city lies opposite the Palisades, and is remarkable for its rural and picturesque scenery. Its topography is at once favorable for business purposes and good drainage. The lower part of Manhattan Island, from the Battery north for about 31 miles, is rolling and sandy in character. It then rises slightly and becomes very rocky. At Central Park, near the center of the city, it rises into broken hills; and northward, along the river the land rises to a height of 238 feet at Washington Heights. Above the Island, the land is hilly and rough, with a great variety of scenery. The lower part of the city has been much altered by filling and grading, and the original width has been materially increased by filling in the rivers on both sides. The city is compactly built up to the Harlem River, on the east of This location is sometimes known as Central Park. Harlem and Yorkville, being the sites of those villages. North of Harlem River are Mott Haven, Morrisania, West Farms, North New York, Port Morris, Woodstock, Highbridgeville, Claremont, Tremont, Mount Hope, Mount Eden, Fairmount, Belmont, Fordham, and Williamsbridge. West of Central Park the population centers in the villages of Bloomingdale and Manhattanville. North of these, along the Hudson, are Washington Heights, Inwood, Kingsbridge, Spuyten Duyvil, Mosholu, Riverdale, and Mount St. Vincent. All of these places are now included in New York City. The ways of approach to New York are numerous, since it is in communication with all parts of the globe, either by sea or railroad. From the sea it is approached from the south by Sandy Hook through the Narrows, between Long Island on the east, and Staten Island on the west, iuto New York Bay, passing the great fortresses of Fort Tompkins and Fort Richmond on the west, or Staten Island shore and Fort Hamilton on the east, or Long Island shore, while old Fort Lafayette, of the "Great Rebellion" celebrity, stands in the bay, a short distance from the shore. At the confluence of the East and Hudson Rivers is Governor's Island, distinguished by the circular fortress on its northern shore. The Hamburg and German lines of steamers land their passengers at Hoboken; while the Cunard, Inman, White Star, Anchor, National and French lines discharge theirs at different piers on the Hudson River, or west side of the city. There is another channel of approach from the sea through the Kills, between Staten Island, on the New Jersey shore, connecting Raritan Bay with New York Harbor-but only vessels of light draught can approach by this route. Steamers and vessels approaching from Long Island Sound pass through Hell Gate and discharge cargoes on both the East River and North River piers. The Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport, and other steamboats from nearer ports, land at East River piers—at Peck slip and vicinity; while the Fall River, Stonington, Providence, Norwich and New London, and Boston outside lines, pass round the Battery and discharge at North or Hudson River piers. The Hudson River steamboats all discharge on the west, or North River side of the city. Passengers via New York and New Haven, Harlem, New York Central and Hudson River Railroads, are dropped at the Grand Central Depot, East 42d Street and Fourth Avenue. All railroad passengers from Boston and the East are landed at Grand Central Depot. WATERMAN'S

"IDEAL" FOUNTAIN PEN

Is four pieces of hard rubber: (1) the Cap which covers and protects the pen in the pocket; (2) the Handle, which holds the ink; (3) the Point-section, which takes the pen; and (4) the Feed-bar, which holds the pen in its place and carries the ink from the reservoir to the pen, using the same principle (capillary attraction), by a similar construction (a split of fissures), that the pen uses in conducting the ink to the paper, and is equally

The act of writing regulates the flow of ink, which is as free as from a dip pen, and more uniform.

It takes the ordinary gold or steel pens.

Your favorite pen can be used, and the character of your handwriting will be preserved.

It is the simplest, cleanest, readiest and most easily managed of all the fountain pens.

It has no machinery to be regulated. When the cap is removed the pen is ready to write; when the writing is done the cap can be replaced and it is ready for the pocket.

It uses any ink, and holds enough to write contin-ously from 10 to 25 hours.

There are several sizes for the pocket and the desk.

PRICES:

For Holders, $2,25 to $4,50 3.50 " Holders with Gold Pens. 7.00

With each pen is given a certificate which warrants the holder for five years, and guarantees it to give satisfaction or the money will be refunded. It also contains a license under the patent which protects the user from all claims for infringements.

All people are cautioned against buying or using similar pens without getting therewith a license under the patent.

Patented Feb. 12 and Nov. 4, 1884.
